PROGRESS AND EDUCATION. -The indications from all parts of our State give cheering promise that we are rapidly regaining our former prosperity. Cities, towns and villages are springing up as it by magic on all our railroads. Manufactories of cotton, wood, iron, tobacco, etc., are being established; mines of iron, coal, gold, mica, etc., are being purchased and operated by enterprising northern capitalists; and agriculture, our chief pursuit and the main basis of our wealth, is receiving more intelligent attention and producing richer results. In all this we are succeeding much better than we anticipated and the develment is greater and greater each day.

But let us not lose sight in our prosperity of that duty which we owe to our ignorant poor, nor shut our eyes to the wide spread illiteracy which the protracted war and extreme poverty have cast to us as our lot.

For twelve years we have had practically no system of education. The more fortunate have been able to give schooling to their children, but the masses of our people have not even had the chance of a rudimentary education. RALEIGH. N. C., SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 24, 1873.

IN SESSION AT STATESVILLE. SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

BY OUR OWN REPORTER.

STATESVILLE, May 21st, 1873. The Society was called to order by President Whitehead at 9 o'clock. Doctor Patterson, Chairman ot Committee on Credentials, submitted a County Medical Society, admitted through their delegates, and recognized as auxiliary societies. In the case of Dr. Fuller, of Raleigh, a recommendation was made that his petition for membership be rejected on account of irregularities in the application.

The Executive Committee reported a substitute for Sec. 4, Art. 4, of the Constitution. After considerable discussion the report was adopted on the motion of Dr. Foote.

On motion of Dr. Ennett, Sec. 4 of Art. 4 was stricken out and the substi-Censors for the Society, was unanimously adopted.

The Committee appointed to investigate the differences between Drs. Porter and some members of the New Hanover county Medical Society, were discharged, and the whole matter referred to the Board of Censors.

The Committee appointed to assist the Secretary in clearing the books of the names of delinquent members, submitted a report, upon which considerable discussion arose, indulged in by

Drs. Hines, Foote, Luckey and O'Hagun. The report, which requires the Secretary to notify all members not present at this Convention, who are in arrears for five years, to at once remit amount of dues or their names would be stricken from the roll, was adopted.

Dr. Satchwell stated that Miss Dimmock, an honorary member of this Society, had received an appointment as Physician in charge of a hospital at Boston, Mass., in which new position she was winning high opinions of the profession as to her ability and useful-

Dr. Hyatt, under the call of written communications, presented and read before the Society the details of four important cases that came under his observation. The communication was referred to the Committee on publica-

Dr. Norcom at Newbern last year. Dr. S. made quite an assault on Drs. Anstie Mr. W. W. Woodell, Wilmington and Gaillard, for their severe attack on his paper, written in 1870, after which he advocated at great length the principles of antiphlogistic medicine.

Dr. Norcom, in reply, defended the reviewers above named, denounced antiphlogistic and defended the doctrines of restorative medicine. The latter, he said, was too ably advocated by Dr. Wood, the orator, and by the President also, in his able and eloquent address.

The efforts of both gentlemen were spoken of by the Society in the highest complimentary terms, and notwithstanding the great length of time occupied in the discussion they elicited the undivided attention of the members. We would be pleased to give a more lengthy report of the discussion, but we deng the capacity of the best New York phonographer to give even a synopsis of a Doctor's speech on diseases in a medical meeting, so unintelligible are some of their words to one like ourself, not initiated in medicine.

The Society adjourned to meet at the Presbyterian Church, where Dr. T. F. Wood, of Wilmington, the Orator of the Society, would deliver his address at 8 o'clock

Notwithstanding the exceeding inclement weather, the large Church was filled with a highly appreciative audience not only of the profession, but of the towns-people generally.

THE ADDRESS OF DR. WOOD.

"The science and art of medicine from the earliest times, and its intimate separable from the advance of civilization. Harvey, and it has made his name glo-rious and immortal. The discoveries of oxygen, vaccination, anesthesia, separate nerve-fibres for motion and sensation and other discoveries succeeded each other so rapidly, as to lead the world to believe that all this is the easy and spontaneous evolution in intellectual development. But not so, contended Dr. Wood. Unrequited toil, labour in the face of the neglect and objections of partial report as follows: New Hanover | the world-opposition to dissection-County Medical Society, and Lenoir the false charge that medicine was op-County Medical Society, admitted posed to religion, and that a search into the minutiae of it tends to materialism -these are some of the charges against which progressive medicine has had to contend and outlive and rise above. In no respect has the profession been more benefitted than by the discussions which have taken place in regard to inflammation and fever. The opponents of the modern school of Rational Medicine have been carried along with the current of progress, and they have had to abandon the ground they formerly held as to the nature and treatment of disease. The tute which provides for a Board of greatest achievement of the profession in modern times is the wonderful im> provement in the detection of disease or in diagnosis." Want of space prevents us from extending our synopsis of this able speech Suffice it to say that this young practitioner won for himself a reputation that will outlive him.

At the conclusion of the address the Society returned to the Court House to participate in the EVENING SESSION.

The Convention was called to order by the President, Dr. Whitehead, who stated that it was an adjourned meeting for the purpose of continuing the discussion on the subject of acute-internal inflammation.

Dr. Norcom said that Dr. Satchwell was absent but he would be glad to hear from some other gentleman that entertained the same view of Dr. S.

Dr. Kelly said he was glad to see in the lengthy discussion between Drs. Norcom and Satchwell, that they were drawing nearer together in their views, and on this important subject had shown a disposition to "cross hands across the bloody chasm." He would therefore move to proceed to other business more important, the reception of reports of Committees, &c.

Dr. Norcom was sorry that his friend Dr. Kelly so misapprehended the posi-

Society differed with Dr. Norcom, yet they must admit the fact that they were induced by his persistent efforts to think, read and ponder, when other-

He proceeded to discuss that portion of the controversy on Pneumonia and at some length gave his own views on the controversy on Pneumonia and at some length gave his own views on the controversy on Pneumonia and at some length gave his own views on the controversy on Pneumonia and the controver of the controversy on Pneumonia and at some length gave his own views on occurred in his own practice. (We would be pleased to report Dr. Foote's remarks at more length, but six months hard training would not enable us to articulate the hard words used, much less to write and spell them correctly.)

Drs. Jones, Hines, Sharpe, and others participated in the discussion, and in justice to the well formed opinion of these gentlemen we can sav, all differed as to the best treatment for Pneumonia. Pending the discussion the Society adjourned.

NAMES OF THE STREETS AND AVE-NUES IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH,-We venture the assertion, that no city South, has grown more rapidly since the war, than the City of Raleigh, it we except Atlanta, Georgia. In a former article we have stated the number of houses erected-since the publication of that statement about one hundred additional have been built, or are now in course of erection. This increase of buildings has added to our population, and necessitated the opening of many new streets and avenues for the accommodation of the people. As a matter of interest, we give the names of all our streets, that persons unacquainted with our city, or who may not have seen our new city map, may see that what we claim in the way of improvements is legitimate in every particular:

The soldiers scaled the ridge, 25 feet high, in face of the Modocs and drove them away. Captain Hasbrouck did not lose a man. According to the reports of the cap-

Louisburg, N. C.

"Last Saturday a gentleman said to the book-keeper of the Sentinel that the News would advertise this for so much, greatly below that paper's published

It is no cross for the Sentinel to be uniform in its charges and stand by them. Let the brethren of the press down for the government of all."

After an investigation of the matter, the book-keeper of the Sentinel, upon whose information the above charge is based, is convinced that he was laboring under a total misapprehension. He authorizes us to say that he was misinformed, and that the above statement in the Sentinel does the NEWs injustice.

When the gentleman referred to by the Sentinel first applied to us to insert his advertisement, he informed us that the Sentinel had agreed to insert it at a price fifty per cent less than the price he agreed to pay us. We made an estimate of the space from the manuscript and charged our usual rates, refusing to to concede, notwithstanding he assured us that the Sentinel had taken it below its published terms. In justice to the Business Manager of the Sentinel, we would state that the advertiser was laboring under an erroneous impression as to the price to be charged by that paper for the notice in question.

We endeavor, in all instances, to adhere strictly to the schedule of prices is laid down in our paper, and if a departure is made, it must be under extraordinary and peculiar circumstances which rarely occur. In the uniformity of our charges, we believe our books will show that the NEWS will compare favorably with any of our cetemporaries, in this or any other State.

The rules adopted by the North Carolina Press Association meet our hearty endorsement, and shall be rigidly adhered to by us.

We deem this statement necessary in justice to ourselves, as the attack in the Sentinel, if not replied to, is calculated to place us in a false position towards our brethren of the press.

We have not noticed the Sentine's repeated charges that Dr. Hawkins owns or is interested in our paper. We are -as he inflicts no injury upon us, but is disgusting decent people everywhere. If he thinks he can force us into an angry discussion, we shall disappoint him. Such a discussion does not comport with our ideas of elevated journalism. We believe we are right. We are conscious of the rectitude of our intentions. and we believe the public will sustain us. If our success depends upon pandering to the passions of the multitude or indulging in malevolence and spleen, then we shall fail, because we have not yet fallen so low that we desire to thrive by abusing and maligning others.

Mr. Turner is welcome to all the capital he can make in his crusade of hate, No intelligent man in this community, in our opinion, believes that Dr. Hawkins has the remotest interest in the NEWS. We have not heretofore noticed the charge, because we have deemed no denial necessary. But if there is any living person who partakes of Mr. Tur. ner's delusion on this subject, he would hardly be convinced of his error by any testimony, however positive and overwhelming. We can say for the benefit of such individuals, if any such there be, that Dr. Hawkins has no more interest in the NEWS than has Tom Scott; that neither of these individuals has ever invested a dollar, directly or indirectly, in our paper; that neither of them in the slightest degree, in any manner, shape or form, is now or has ever been immediately or remotely connected therewith; that Dr. Hawkins has never lent us one dollar in his life, on his own account, that of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad or any other, and that he has no more pecuniary interest in the NEWS man in the moon.

before the hangers around at the Courts and tells them that Dr. Hawkins is running the NEWS, or is concerned in it in any manner, he proclaims in the sight of man and his Maker a palpable untruth. STONE & UZZELL, Proprietors of the NEWS, Raleigh, N. C., May 22, 1873.

BAD FAITH OF THE PRESI-DENT. It is said that the President's proclamation, published in our paper yesterday morning, surprised all circles in Washington. Even the Radical Senator, West, of Louisiana, was surprised. The President promised not to intertere in Louisiana affairs. He said he would not undertake to decide which was the rightful Government. He now orders the McEnery Government to disperse in twenty days, and commands everybody to yield allegiance to

We are not surprised at Grant. But what will the North say?

Among the mendicants whose feet were washed by the Emperor and Empress of Austria on "Maunday Thursday," this year, was a woman, aged one hundred and six.

THE MEDICAL PROFESSION-ITS HIGH STANDARD IN

NORTH CAROLINA. The Medical Convention which met at Statesville, on Tuesday, the 20th inst., adjourned on Thursday the 23rd, to meet next year at Charlotte. A full account of the proceedings is reported in our local columns.

The high character of our physicians at home and abroad should be a source of pride and congratulation to every North Carolinian. Our people are worderfully indifferent to their own merits and their want of State pride has become proverbial. They possess the virwork up to the rules they have laid tue of unobtrusive modesty that has operated to their prejudice, and it is time that they had become somewhat more self-assertive. The medical profession in North Carolina has established for itself a standard unsurpassed by that of any other State in the Union. Ours may be regarded as the pioneer State in the establishment of Medical Boards of Examiners by Legislative enactment, as a safeguard against empiricism and quackery. By an Act of our General Assembly passed in the year 1859, it was pro vided that the Board shall consist of seven able and learned practitioners of medicine, whose duty it shall be examine all applicants who desire to practice medicine in State. These are required to pass a satisfactory examination before the Board to enable them to collect their medical accounts in our Courts. Ours was the first State in the Union to take this step, but the benefits that accrued from the system have been so marked, and the law has proved so useful and efficient, that several other States have followed our example. It may be confidently predicted that it will not be many years before this law will be uni versally adopted in the United States-The effect of the regulation in North Carolina has been to establish a high and elevated standard for the profession, and to protect the public from the arts of pretenders and charlatans. The Board of Examiners occupy relatively the same position towards medical applicants that our Supreme Court does towards applicants for license to

Before the war, the legal profession in North Carolina occupied a high and enviable position. This was in a great measure due to the fact, that no lawyer from another State, or graduate in law at any College or University, was allowed content to let Mr. Turner continue his to practice in our Courts, by reason of a campaign in the State on his own hook license obtained elsewhere, but was required to go through a rigid examination at the hands of our Supreme Court. This examination could, in no instance, be dispensed with-no matter what credentials the individual might bring of his standing and ability as a lawyer in his own State. In a large majority of the States, it is only necessary for a lawyer to present his license from any State to entitle him to the privileges of > the bar. The Medical Convention of North Carolina, at its annual meetings, faith fully carries out the wise provisions en. acted by the Legislature of 1859. The following members constitute the Board of Examiners: Dr. Charles J. O'Hagan. of Greenville, on the subject of Surgery; Dr. W. A. B. Norcom, of Edenton, on the subject of Physiology and Hygiene: Dr. C. Tate Murphy, of Sampson, Materia Medica, Pharmacy and Therapeutics; Dr. George A. Foote, of Warrenton, Principles and Practice of Medicine; Dr. Charles Duffy, of Newbern, Chemistry; Dr. J. W. Jones, of Tarboro, Anatomy; and Dr. R. L. Payne, of Da> vidson, Obstetrics. The reader will be struck with the number of young physicians on this Board; but young men in medicine as well as in politics are now take leading and important parts, for upon their shoulders falls the greater portion of the work and responsibility.

While several cld and experienced practitioners, as it is their duty to be, are prominent in all the discussions and proceedings of our Medical Conventions, t cannot be denied that a majority of the members are young men, who have taken there positions in the very first individually, or as President of a Rail- rank of the profession, and are as fully road or in any other capacity, than the advanced as their older brethren in all the modern and progressive systems of When Josiah Turner, Jr., stands up treatment. In ability, in character and in skill, the young physicians in this State will compare favorably with those of any other.

> We are glad to know that the subjects discussed in the State Conventions of North Carolina are attracting attention, not only in the periodicals of other States, but also in the European journals. The Practitioner, a monthly magazine of medicine, published in London, and which is a standard work in that country, being edited by the celebrated Dr. Anstie, devotes several columns in a recent issue to the points discussed at the Convention held at Newbern, last May.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

A general Indian wrr is imminent. The Government is just entering upon the threshold of its troubles, in its attempts to subdue the Modocs. The successes of the latter have emboldened the dusky warriors of other savage tribes to resist the United States troops. It is believed that the Modocs will be largely re-enforced, and that all the hostile tribes will unite and act in concert. Salisbury has a new tobacco ware-

A VOICE FROM FLORIDA. We publish a letter to-day from North Carolinian, who is now residing in Gainesville, Florida. He ventilates Gov. Hart's conduct in refusing to sur render Littlefield.

Incendiarism.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters at their late meeting in the city of New York resolved to raise a fund of $100,000 for the detection, conviction and punishment of parties engaged in the nefarious business of incendiarism and arson. The Executive Committee of that Board at their meeting on the 14th inst., carried out the resolution and opened the subscription.

We hail this movement as a step in the right direction, and commend the action as one not only likely to benefit Underwriters, but also to protect the public from wholesale loss. This action is the more important when it is remembered that the experience of the large companies transacting the business of fire insurance in the United States shows that the proportion of loss to be attributed to the above causes is not less than 33 per cent. of the whole, or a loss to the country of at least twenty five millions of dollars per annum .- Evening Bu le'in. In some localities the prohibitory iquor law, passed by the Legislature, is causing complaint. On yesterday the Governor received a letter from a party in one of these unfortunate localities, asking his Excellency to give him permission to sell liquor except on Sundays and church days, and if that could not be done, to allow the sale of Schiedam Schnapps and brandy peaches, promising not to style them "liquor." Governor has the matter under advisement, but is inclined to doubt his power to grant the modest request. We hope the Legislature will give this poor man the relief which he seeks.

Narrow-gauge railways are becoming more popular every day in the West. But it is in California that the boldest experiment is to be tried. The little giant there is coming into competition with its larger brother, and the California Central Narrow-Guage Railroad Company are constructing their track nearly parrallel with the Central Pacific. The opening celebration of the completion of the road to Benecia took place only the other day, amid great rejoic-

THE PEOPLE'S STAMP OF VALUE.—The Government indorsement, which legalizes the sale of PLANTATION BITTERS, is not the only stamp affixed to that famous Vegetable Tonic. It bears, in addition to that official sanction, the still more valuable stamp of public approbation, This inestimable voucher of its rare properties as a Tonic, Corrective and Alterative, is of much earlier date than the Government credential; for millions of sick persons had pronounced it the Grand Specific of the Agelong before Congress thought of taxing propietary medicines. It is unnecessary to repeat, in detail, the proprieties of the wonderful Vegetable Invirrant. The best reference that can be offeed to those windesire the full particulars of its virtues, is the General Public. The particulars of the murder in Charlotte on Wednesday evening are about as follows: The parties to the affair were Robert Smith, colored, and Charles Moore, colored. Smith was the victim. It seems that Smith and Moore were near neighbors, both living on Hill street, diagonally opposite, it being probably not more than twenty five vards from the door of the one to that of the other. Just before the time of the murder, Smith passed by the door of Moore, and as he did so looked in. The latter inquired what he wanted, to which question no answer was returned. Moore applied an abusive epithet. Smith replied that if Moore would come out he would fix him. Moore immediately went out, when a fierce quarrel ensued, which ended in the parties closing in a fight. In the melee Moore drew a knife, (or perhaps he had the knife in his hand when the fight began) and thrust in the side of his enemy, who immediately ran in the direction of his home, dropping at the gate. He was taken up and carried inside, when Dr. W. W. Gregory was at once sent for. He came and examined the wound, and found that the knife had penetrated the left side of the unfortunate man a very short distance below the heart. He was past all earthly aid, being in a dying condition when Dr. Gregory arrived. He lingered until 9:40 when he expired without having spoken a word from the time he received his death wound.

The Caldwell-Hart Correspondence
--Comments of the Radical Organ of Florida-Views of a North Caro-linian in Florida, &c. FLORIDA CORRESPONDENCE DAILY NEWS.

GAINESVILLE, FLA., May 13, 1873. Every North Carolinian in Florida who read the Tallahassee Sentinel of last Saturday, containing the correspondence between our Governor, (Hart) and your Governor, (Tod R. Caldwell) must have telt as Judge Gaston did when he wrote that never to be forgotten sorg, "Hurrah! hurrah! the old North State forever, Hurrah! hurrah! the good old North State."

The Tallahassee Sentinel, although the official organ of the State, copied the entire correspondence of these two gentlemen from the RALEIGH NEWS of April 29th, under the head "The Governor of Florida Shielding Littlefield. and although one of the editors of that paper is the Governor of Florida's Secretary of State, he has in his editorial in the Sentine! of Saturday last, the following article:

There is no reason why Governor Hart, or any other honest man who loves Florida, and the good name and reputation of the State, should desire to harbor Milton S. Littlefield. He has done more to debauch and prostitute our Legislature than any ten men within her borders. He has corrupted many of our young men, and even demoralized some of our old ones who were thought to be "firm and immovable, always abounding in the faith." But we must say, "Give the devil his due." If Littlefield were a greater offender than he really is, which is hard to imagine, he would still be entitled to be arrested and tried by proper legal process-" The balance of which is an apology for Gov. Hart's refusal to deliver Gen. Littlefield to the Governor of North Carolina.

but what pleases North Carolinians the most is, in this passage at arms between the two Governors, that whereas Gov. Hart in his reply to Gov. Caldwell (which occupies just fifteen lines in the Sentinel), declining to deliver Gene Littlefield, Gov. Caldwell in an elaborate article giving his legal opinion in the matter, gives the former a pretty hard hit in the following language: "I know not whether, in Florida, it is a crime 'to cheat persons out of bonds and money,' nor whether a conspiracy between two for that purpose is a crime in that State; but I regret very much that your Excellency, from your high position, has publicly announced that such an act is not criminal in North Carolina. This State, once called by the proud cognomen of 'the honest Old North State,' has been dreadfully cheated out of its bonds and money by conspiracies charged on Littlefield and Swepson, and was making efforts to s op the robberies by punishing the perpetrators. Hence the indictment, the light of the criminal and the demand for the fugitive. But if your Excellency's legal opinion should prevail and become the accepted law of the State. there is great reason to fear that anothe: swarm of conspiring cheaters and swindlers will overspread our State; and the more especially, if after they shall have discovered their mistake of our law and their danger of being punished. they have the assurance of finding a safe and comfortable hiding place for themselves and their plunder in her sister State of Florida. But, I hope your Excellency will pardon me for venturing to assure you that you have sadly mistaken the law of North Carolina in regard to the offence with which you admit Littlefield to be charged. He is charged, you say, with "a conspiracy by him and Swepson

North Carolina, Now, I assure you, from the best legal authority, that by the common law of England (which is the law of North Carolina, unless altered by statute,) "where two or more persons are joined together to do even lawful acts with a corrupt intent," the act is indictable; as also is "private immortality when coupled with a conspiracy. Such was the common law of England when the colony of North Carolina was settled, and this I had a right to presume you knew. If there be any relaxation of it, you have the honor of being the discoverer.

to cheat certain persons out of their bonds and money," and this you maintain is no crime known to the law of

I admit that your Excellency is not officially responsible for any ignorance of the laws of North Carolina, and it seems fair for you to presume that the judiciary of North Carolina was cognizant of her laws."

Not being able to improve on Governor Caldwell's remarks, we will drop this matter. Governor Hart was run and elected ast November as a Southern loyalist. He could not have been elected, but by the votes of a large number of whites, who openly acknowledged themselves Republicans, and immediately after Campbell, 2nd Captain; W. E. Kyle, 3rd office known Republicans, who had been appointed by his predecessor, because they may have differed from him, and supported the Greeley ticket during State in the Union, PRINTED NOTICES OF REMOVAL.

> I presume he found it impossible to find clerical force to have these notices written fast enough. It is pleasant to know that this old imbecile has found some one about the size of Tod R. Caldwell, who can show him up, and let him look at himself as others see him.

SELECTED POETRY " SHE IS DEAD!"

The Aldine for June contains the following pathetic lines by Miss Osgood: Three little words within my brain Beat back and forth their one refrain, Three little words, whose dull distress
Means everything and nothingness,
Unbidden move my lips instead Of other utterance: She is dead.

Here, lingering we talked of late Beside the hedge-grown garden gate; Till, smi:ing, ere the twilight fell She bade me take a last farewell, Those were the final words she said— But yesterday—and she is dead!

I see the very gown she wore,
The color I had praised before;
The swaying length, where she would pass,
Made a light rustle on the grass;
There in the porch she turned her head
For one last smile—and she is dead!

Could I have known what was to come Those hours had not been blind and dumb!
I would have followed close with death,
Have striven for every glance and breath!
But now—the final word is said, The last look taken—she is dead.

We were not lovers—such as they Who pledge a faith to last for aye; Yet seems the universe to me A riddle now without a key; What means the sunshine overhead. bloom below-now she is dead?

So new my grief, its sudden haze Bewilders my accustomed ways: And yet so old, it seems my heart Was never from its pain apart; What was and is and shall be, wed With that one sentence—she is dead.

A STRANGE SUPERSTITION.—The fol lowing narrative discovers the curious fact that on the Assam frontier at the present day is existing in all its entirety, the very superstition for which the Duke of Gloucester, in the reign of Richard III., persecuted Jane Shore, and which found believers in Devonshire so lately as half a century ago-the superstition that an evilly disposed person could, by pricking the limbs of an effigy of an enemy, cause the same injuries gy of an enemy, cause the same injuries to an enemy's person, and by holding it over a fire could gradually waste away his life. Early last month an Assamese came into the Deputy Commissioner of Seebsauger, complaining that some Nagas on the frontier had robbed him of a buffalo. The defendants, however, denied the charge, avering that the complainant having quarrelled with one of their number had made an image of his enemy, which he tortured by piercing it with a thorn and holding it over a fire, and that from the day on which he began his evil practices their tribesman gan his evil practices their tribesman had sickened and finally died. As bloodmoney for this murder, the complainant had given them the buffalo in questior. The closing scene of the investigation was also curious. The Nagas were condemned by a punchayet to pay 100r. and, on being ordered to swear that bygones should be bygones, took the required oath by biting a tiger's tooth. -Bombay Gazette.

Traveling Side-walk." A bill has actually passed the Legislature chartering it. The traveling toy. It is an endless moveable platform, on an elevated trammoveable platform, on an elevated tramway, moved by steam power. All the passengers have to do is to stand still, the drunken Irishman on the Dublin square, who, as in his eyes all the houses were revolving, waited for his come round, when, as he said, "all he would have to do would be to step into the front hall." It is a most povel idea, this traveling sidewalk.

a wealthy baronet, long of unsound mind, and represented to be still living, really died years ago, but that some atfectionate relatives, to whose care he was committed by the legal authorities, have invented, with a view of retaining the ample allowances made to them for taking care of him by the court of chancery, a lay figure, an admirable likeness of the deceased gentleman, which, seated in an easy chair and cowering over the fire, they show to the official inquisitors, with the intimation that he can't bear to be approached or disturbed.

to preserve it without injury, I got some spirits of wine and put in a glass for about two hours, until I thought it was to preserve it without injury, I got about two hours, until I thought it was dead; I afterwards wrapped it up in a how in drawer. Being called away from home the next day, and having remained THE HOME SHUTTLE away for three weeks, when I came back I went to the drawer, expecting to find the animal decayed, when, on opening the handkierchief, out flew the bat, as well as when I first caught it." This phonomenon needs to be explained.
